

Discover Belize

Still relatively unexplored as a sailing destination, Belize marries azure waters, hundreds of idyllic islands, and the world's second-largest barrier reef with a fascinating, culturally rich heritage. The trade winds typically blow in from the east, ensuring the ultimate sailing conditions to navigate north or south along the coast.

Set your sights on new horizons daily, including three of the four major atolls in the Caribbean, while your crew takes care of your every need: Preparing and serving gourmet hors d'oeuvres and exotic libations, catching seafood for your dinner (did someone say lobster?), launching kayaks, taking you snorkeling, and so much more!

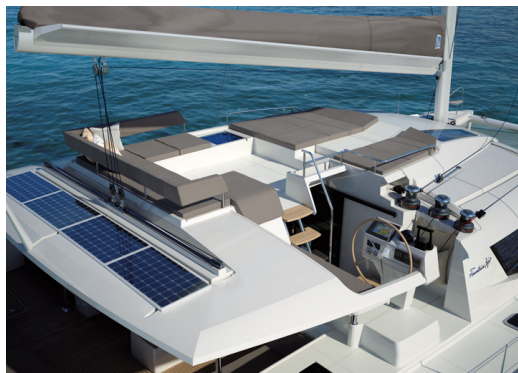

Or head to a laidback island like Caye Caulker and walk barefoot on sand streets to colorful wooden beach bars and dine on the freshest catch of the day.

Sit back, relax, and make the most of a fantastic, resort-style getaway island-hopping to a plethora of white-sand cayes.

FP Saba 50

Welcome aboard Nowhere, a highly sought-after 50 ft. Fountaine Pajot Saba and one of the most expansive catamarans, not only in our fleet but also in the Western Caribbean. Her epic proportions feature five queen cabins and a full cabin, each equipped with air-conditioning and ensuite facilities. She can accommodate nine guests comfortably (ten if children share the double room).

Her design allows seamless communication and movement between its four distinct social areas: the cockpit, helm station, lounge deck, and salon. A conversation nook, including a couch, two loungers, and a cocktail table, is at the bow. The flybridge has a sofa and three sun lounges, with the helm two steps down to starboard for easy (and entertaining) conversations with your captain. The aft cockpit boasts spacious lounging seats and a large dining table. Indoors, the ample space in the salon, which houses a settee and galley with a service island, evokes the ambiance traditionally found in larger yachts.

Nowhere's airy and minimalist atmosphere, complemented with chic decor and an array of toys, makes for the perfect sailing vessel on which to share the joy of exploring Belize's azure waters and postcard-perfect cays with those you love.
